Henry & Horne Receives Tenth When Work Works Award

For immediate release

Tempe—May 24, 2016—Henry & Horne has been awarded the 2016 When Work Works Award, making the Firm a ten-time recipient.

The award recognizes companies for exemplary workplace practices aimed at increasing business and employee success. The Families and Work Institute and the Society for Human Resource Management present the prestigious award to employers of all sizes and types across the country.

Receiving the award includes a rigorous assessment. First, companies must qualify by ranking in the top 20% of the country based on a nationally representative sample of employers. The largest part of the assessment is an employee survey which evaluates employers on six components of an effective workplace: opportunities for learning; a culture of trust; work/life fit; supervisor support for work success; autonomy; and satisfaction with earnings, benefits and opportunities for advancement.

When Work Works is a national project that shares results on what makes an effective and flexible workplace with the business community.
