New international tax service offered by Henry+Horne

Scottsdale—February 1, 2018—Henry+Horne is now authorized by the IRS to act as a Certified Acceptance Agent (CAA), which is going to save you time and potential headaches.

As a CAA, the Firm can certify all identification documents for primary and secondary taxpayers, including documents such as your passport or birth certificates for dependents. This is important when it comes to applying for, or renewing, your Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN) via Form W-7.

Before, if you needed a certified copy of your passport for your Form W-7 application, you could only get this certification by visiting an IRS office or U.S. Embassy – not always an easy trip to make and we know your time is valuable. Now, it's as simple as contacting your Henry+Horne tax professional.

ITINs are temporary numbers that expire if you don't use it for three consecutive years, or after 10 years, whichever is earlier. You might need an ITIN for situations such as selling real estate overseas. Check out our blog for more information on ITINs.

If you need your passport certified or help with the application process, be sure to contact your Henry+Horne tax professional.
